

Self-Regulatory Organizations; The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC; Notice of Filing and Immediate Effectiveness of Proposed Rule Change to Amend the Exchange's Transaction Credits and Charges at Equity 7, Sections 114 and 118

December 18, 2020.

Pursuant to Section 19(b)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Act"),¹ and Rule 19b-4 thereunder,² notice is hereby given that on December 7, 2020, The Nasdaq Stock Market LLC ("Nasdaq" or "Exchange") filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") the proposed rule change as described in Items I, II, and III below, which Items have been prepared by the Exchange. The Commission is publishing this notice to solicit comments on the proposed rule change from interested persons.

I. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Terms of Substance of the Proposed Rule Change

The Exchange proposes to amend the Exchange's transaction credits [sic] at Equity 7, Sections 114 and 118, as described further below.

The text of the proposed rule change is available on the Exchange's Website at <https://listingcenter.nasdaq.com/rulebook/nasdaq/rules>, at the principal office of the Exchange, and at the Commission's Public Reference Room.

II. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

In its filing with the Commission, the Exchange included statements concerning the purpose of and basis for the proposed rule change and discussed any comments it received on the proposed rule change. The text of these statements may be examined at the places specified in

Item IV below. The Exchange has prepared summaries, set forth in sections A, B, and C below, of the most significant aspects of such statements.

A. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement of the Purpose of, and Statutory Basis for, the Proposed Rule Change

1. Purpose

Presently, the Exchange provides its members with various credits for executing orders in securities priced at or above $1 that add liquidity to the Exchange and charges them various fees for executing orders, also in securities priced at or above $1 that remove liquidity from the Exchange, as set forth in Equity 7, Section 118(a) of the Exchange's Rules. Members may qualify for tiers of discounted fees and premium credits based, in part, upon the volume of their activities in securities priced at or above $1 on the Exchange as a percentage of total "Consolidated Volume."

Pursuant to Equity 7, Section 118(a), the term "Consolidated Volume" means the total consolidated volume reported to all consolidated transaction reporting plans by all exchanges and trade reporting facilities during a month in equity securities, excluding executed orders with a size of less than one round lot. For purposes of calculating Consolidated Volume and the extent of a member's trading activity the date of the annual reconstitution of the Russell Investments Indexes is excluded from both total Consolidated Volume and the member's trading activity.

Similarly, in Equity 7, Section 114, the Exchange offers several special pricing programs that are based, in part, upon members' activities in securities priced at or more than $1 relative to total Consolidated Volume. These programs provide credits to Qualified Market Makers, to members that establish the National Best Bid or Offer, and to members that grow their activity on the Exchange to a specified extent.

Generally, the ratio of consolidated volumes in securities priced at or above $1 ("dollar plus volume") relative to securities priced below a dollar ("sub-dollar volume") has been stable from month to month, such that "Consolidated Volume" has been a reasonable baseline for determining tiered and special pricing for members that execute dollar plus volume on the Exchange.

In December 2020, however, sub-dollar volume has increased dramatically and unusually relative to dollar plus volume due to activity concentrated in a handful of non-institutional firms, trading mostly one particular sub-dollar stock. Additionally, this volume spike may have been exacerbated by changes to other exchanges' pricing schemes, which have incentivized sub-dollar trading.

Trading volume in just this one sub-dollar security comprised 9.68 percent of daily volume on December 1, 2020, and thus far in December 2020, sub-dollar volume comprises 15.75 percent of Consolidated Volume. By comparison, sub-dollar volume comprised only 8.69 percent of Consolidated Volume, on average, during the preceding 12 months.

This anomalous rise in sub-dollar volume stands to have a material adverse impact on members' qualifications for dollar plus pricing tiers and special pricing programs because such qualifications depend members upon achieving threshold percentages of volumes as a percentage of Consolidated Volume, and the extraordinary rise in sub-dollar volume stands to dilute Consolidated Volume in December 2020. As a result, members may find it more difficult, if not practically impossible, to qualify for or to continue to qualify for their existing dollar plus pricing tiers and incentives programs, even if their dollar plus volumes have not diminished relative to prior months. The Exchange notes that its members mostly have not been responsible for the spike in sub-dollar volume, such that they are likely to experience these adverse effects fully.

The Exchange believes that it would be unfair for its members that execute significant dollar plus volumes on the Exchange to fail to achieve or to lose their existing qualifications for tiered or special pricing for such volumes in December 2020 due to anomalous behavior which is entirely extraneous to them.

The Exchange is presently assessing whether the current spike in sub-dollar volumes is an isolated event or whether instead it is likely to recur. If the latter, the Exchange may wish to propose adjustments to its pricing formulas going forward to avoid extraordinary spikes in sub-dollar volumes from adversely affecting the pricing of dollar plus stock executions. In the interim, however, the Exchange believes that it would be fair and appropriate to take action to avoid adverse impacts for December 2020 pricing.

Accordingly, the Exchange proposes to amend its pricing schedule at Equity 7, Sections 114 and 118 to state that for purposes of determining which of the execution charges and credits listed therein a member qualifies for during the month of December 2020, the Exchange will calculate the member's volume and total Consolidated Volume twice. First, it will calculate the member's volume and Consolidated Volume as presently set forth in Equity 7, Section 118(a). Second, it will calculate the member's volume and Consolidated Volume by excluding volume and Consolidated Volume that consists of executed orders in securities priced less than $1. Thereafter, the Exchange proposes to evaluate which of these two member volume and Consolidated Volume calculations would qualify members for the most advantageous credits and charges for the month of December 2020 and then it will apply those credits and charges to its members. Thus, if but for the sub-dollar anomaly, a member would qualify for a higher credit or a lower fee tier in December, then the Exchange will apply that higher credit or lower fee tier to the member's trading activity during the month.

Impact of the Changes

As of December 4, 2020, the Exchange assesses that several members are at risk of failing to qualify for pricing tiers or for special incentive programs in the month of December due to sub-dollar activity. The proposal will ensure that no member suffers any such adverse impact. It will also ensure that members whose volumes in December would otherwise newly qualify them for better pricing tiers or special incentive programs will be able to achieve such qualifications.

2. Statutory Basis

The Exchange believes that its proposal is consistent with Section 6(b) of the Act,³ in general, and further the objectives of Sections 6(b)(4) and 6(b)(5) of the Act,⁴ in particular, in that it provides for the equitable allocation of reasonable dues, fees and other charges among members and issuers and other persons using any facility, and is not designed to permit unfair discrimination between customers, issuers, brokers, or dealers. The proposal is also consistent with Section 11A of the Act relating to the establishment of the national market system for securities.

The Exchange believes that the proposal is reasonable and equitable because in its absence, members may fail to qualify their existing pricing tiers and programs or fail to qualify for better pricing tiers or programs due to factors that are unrelated to the volumes they execute on the Exchange as well as the total consolidated volume of dollar plus securities executed on all trading venues. The Exchange does not wish to penalize members that execute significant volumes on the Exchange due to anomalous and extraneous trading activities of a small number of firms in sub-dollar securities. The proposed rule would seek to avoid such a penalty by determining whether calculating member volume and total Consolidated Volume for December to include or exclude sub-dollar volume would result in Exchange members qualifying for the most advantageous credits and charges, and then applying the calculations that would result in the pricing that is most advantageous to each member.

The Exchange notes that other exchanges have taken similar steps to avoid penalizing their members for unusual occurrences that would otherwise cause members to fail to qualify for volume-based tiered pricing.⁵

⁴ 15 U.S.C. 78f(b)(4) and (5).

⁵ See, e.g., Securities Exchange Act Release No. 34-90339 (November 4, 2020), 85 FR 71689 (November 10, 2020) (SR-PHLX-2020-50); Securities Exchange Act Release No. 34-85025 (Jan 1, 2019), 84 FR 2611 (February 7, 2019) (SR-ISE-2018-102).

The Exchange believes that the proposed rule change is an equitable allocation and is not unfairly discriminatory because the Exchange intends for it to ensure that no member suffers adverse pricing impacts in December 2020 due to an anomalous spike in sub-dollar volumes. That is, the Exchange does not intend for the proposal to advantage any particular member; rather, it intends for the proposal to avoid disadvantaging any member.

B. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Burden on Competition

The Exchange does not believe that the proposed rule change will impose any burden on competition not necessary or appropriate in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. In terms of inter-market competition, the Exchange notes that it operates in a highly competitive market in which market participants can readily favor competing venues if they deem fee levels at a particular venue to be excessive, or rebate opportunities available at other venues to be more favorable. In such an environment, the Exchange must continually adjust its fees and credits to remain competitive with other exchanges and with alternative trading systems that have been exempted from compliance with the statutory standards applicable to exchanges. Because competitors are free to modify their own fees and credits in response, and because market participants may readily adjust their order routing practices, the Exchange believes that the degree to which fee and credit changes in this market may impose any burden on competition is extremely limited.

In this instance, the proposal does not impose a burden on competition because the Exchange's execution services are completely voluntary and subject to extensive competition both from other exchanges and from off-exchange venues. If the changes proposed herein are unattractive to market participants, it is likely that the Exchange will lose market share as a result.

The Exchange does not believe that the proposal will burden intra-market competition. As noted above, the proposal will simply help to ensure that no member suffers a pricing disadvantage in December 2020 due to an anomalous spike in sub-dollar volumes which dilutes Consolidated Volume. It is not intended to provide a competitive advantage to any particular member.

C. Self-Regulatory Organization's Statement on Comments on the Proposed Rule Change Received from Members, Participants, or Others

No written comments were either solicited or received.

III. Date of Effectiveness of the Proposed Rule Change and Timing for Commission Action

The foregoing rule change has become effective pursuant to Section 19(b)(3)(A)(ii) of the Act.⁶

At any time within 60 days of the filing of the proposed rule change, the Commission summarily may temporarily suspend such rule change if it appears to the Commission that such action is: (i) necessary or appropriate in the public interest; (ii) for the protection of investors; or (iii) otherwise in furtherance of the purposes of the Act. If the Commission takes such action, the Commission shall institute proceedings to determine whether the proposed rule should be approved or disapproved.

IV. Solicitation of Comments

Interested persons are invited to submit written data, views, and arguments concerning the foregoing, including whether the proposed rule change is consistent with the Act. Comments may be submitted by any of the following methods:

Electronic comments:

- Use the Commission's Internet comment form (<http://www.sec.gov/rules/sro.shtml>); or
